

BRIEF TERMS OF USE – ARRIVANOICORTI.IT

This license is different from the one to join Arrivano i Corti's Short Film Festival. They have many points in common, but the present is about the eventual diffusion of your video work over the internet.

You can join the Festival without agreeing with this licence, however.

There are two types of service:

- 1) you can post your entire short film on arrivanoicorti.it;
- 2) you permit to arrivanoicorti.it to publish your entire short film on external websites also, for example in the huge video communities like YouTube, Google Video, Revver, Myspace, AtomFilms ecc.

This choice has two benefits:

- 1) your video can spread (if you are lucky, it can become a viral video) on the internet, with people watching it, posting comments about it, writing articles about it, and eventually interested in its distribution;
- 2) this way, you permit Arrivano i Corti to create a dynamic community, precisely focused on short films, with great quality (there is a selection on videos submitted), like don't exist yet on the net: you can create one page per work, presenting it with informations and reviews, and write your own posts related to short-films world (news, critics, history).

In brief:

- 1) you must retain all the rights or authorizations on every part of the work you are sending to Arrivano I Corti, in the limits of fair use (read further on the website for informations about "fair use");
- 2) you must be at least 18 years old (or have an adult that represents you) and grant the content of your work not to be offensive in the common moral sense;
- 3) if you specify it, you agree with Arrivano i Corti in publishing your work (the entire video or a trailer) on www.arrivanoicorti.it domain (this is NOT REQUIRED to join the festival, this regards website only);
- 4) if you specify it, you agree with Arrivano i Corti in publishing your work (the entire video or a trailer) on correlated projects' websites and eventually on other video host services over the internet (like YouTube, Google Video, Revver, Myspace, AtomFilms...), in order to broaden the audience on a selection of submitted works (this is NOT REQUIRED to join the festival, this regards website only);

- 5) you agree with Arrivano i Corti in using your work (or parts of it) for public broadcasting (during the festival or out of the festival), advertising, and for archive/documentation purposes;
- 6) registered users can send videos and articles/reviews: they will be published on www.arrivanoicorti.it after moderation; Arrivano i Corti can ban permanently a registered user without notice;
- 7) Arrivano i Corti decides what content can be published; Arrivano i Corti can delete a video/article/review post without notice; Arrivano i Corti maintains a file repository containing also unpublished and deleted videos;
- 8) Arrivano i Corti does not endorse any User Submission or any opinion, recommendation, or advice expressed therein, and Arrivano i Corti expressly disclaims any and all liability in connection with User Submissions;
- 9) Arrivano i Corti will send an e-mail to all registered users on every revision of this document.

User, checking the corresponding fields at the end of this document, permits to Arrivano i Corti to:

a) broadcast with every technical mean, transmit a spread the submitted work, via internet or with every kind of communication system (for example Wap, Umts, Iptv, Dsl, or invented in future) that can permit to browse internet websites, using every communication protocol, file format and compression method (for example Mp3, Podcast, Mov, Flc, Wma, Mpeg, Avi, Jpeg, or invented in future), with every content fruition mode (for example streaming, video on demand, podcast, or invented in future);

b) use the entire Opera or parts of it, and insert it in archives;

c) publish the work on other websites and video communities (for example YouTube, Google Video, Revver, Myspace, AtomFilms) in Arrivano i Corti's thematic channel, in order to promote the best works and document festival activities.
